

Dear friends

Greetings from VANI.

Please see the recently published World Bank – Civil Society Engagement: Review of Fiscal Years 2010 – 2012. This is the most comprehensive of the Civil Society Review series since its first edition in 2002. Through its 136 pages of text, photos, and tables, it illustrates how relations with civil society have continued to both expand and deepen across the World Bank Group.

The strengthening of these relations was experienced across the spectrum of the “engagement continuum,” which includes information disclosure, policy dialogue, strategy consultations, operational collaboration, and institutional partnerships. The Review provides detailed information on civil society outreach events, program initiatives, and funding mechanisms implemented by the regions, networks, and numerous other units at the national, regional, and global levels. We hope that you find this report useful and we welcome your feedback.

Thanking you
